Welcome to CaperCon 2019!

Welcome to CaperCon 2019! Thank you for joining us for our fifth year, on behalf of the CaperCon Staff!

CaperCon is the only fan convention on Cape Breton Island, presenting its own unique challenges for many reasons. We've done so much growing and learning over the past five years. As a result, entering this year, we have so much to be grateful for. We have the most amazing volunteers, who join us year after year and do everything they can to help the convention succeed. We have incredible sponsors, who are excited to work with us and help us in any way we need. We have our families and friends, who don't always understand what a convention is, but support and encourage us as only family and friends can.

We also have you.

None of it would be possible without you. You are the reason this convention exists. You are the reason once a year all of the geekdoms can unite in a celebration of everything that makes us fans. It hasn't always been easy, but you've always shown us it's worth it. Not all heroes wear capes. Thank you for your continued support. We hope you enjoy your weekend with us.

Guests

Robert Picardo, Actor

Born and raised in Philadelphia, Bob graduated from the William Penn Charter School and attended Yale University. His acting career began at Yale when he landed a leading role in Leonard Bernstein's Mass and later performed it in the European premiere of that work. Bob, then a biology major, abandoned his pre-med plans and graduated Magna Cum Laude with a B.A. in Drama at age 20. He moved to New York and studied acting at Circle in the Square. In 1977, he made his Broadway debut in the lead role of the comedy hit Gemini. The following season, he won the coveted role of Jack Lemmon's son in Bernard Slade's Tribute, re-creating his role in the Los Angeles production. In California, Bob has played leading roles at the Mark Taper Forum, The Pasadena Playhouse, the Berkeley Rep (Drama-Logue Award for The Normal Heart) and other venues.

On television, Bob earned an Emmy Nomination for his role as Mr. Cutlip on The Wonder Years. He received the Founders Award from Viewers for Quality Television for his combined work on that show and his starring role as Dr. Richard on the acclaimed Vietnam drama, China Beach. Bob is recognized around the globe for his curmudgeonly Holographic Doctor on seven seasons of Star Trek: Voyager. One of the two Voyager episodes Bob also directed, "One Small Step," was a moving tribute to the pioneers of space exploration. He has guest starred on many popular television series and starred as Commander Woolsey on Stargate Atlantis. Bob has appeared in over two dozen films, including the 2016 Coen brothers comedy, Hail Caesar.

Bob recently joined Bill Nye and Neil DeGrasse Tyson on the Board of the non-profit space advocacy group, The Planetary Society. Bob believes, "Science fiction dreams the dream and helps pave the way for real science and exploration to fulfill that dream. If you love science fiction, you love exploration and you belong in The Planetary Society."

Emma Caulfield, Actor

Emma Caulfield is known for memorable roles on some of the biggest television hits of the 90's and 2000's. Caulfield was first notice by television fans for her role on the long running Fox soap, "Beverly Hills, 90210" as the girlfriend to Jason Priestley's Brandon Walsh character, Susan Keats. Caulfield's run on the series lasted for thirty episodes and eventually lead to her most famous recurring television role.

Fans of Joss Whedon's beloved television series "Buffy the Vampire Slayer" will recognize Caulfield as a demon known as Anyanka who went by the human name Anya Jenkins. The character, who has predilection for wreaking havoc upon men who had wronged women made her, immediately connected with audiences so much so that her role was originally expanded from a brief run to a long standing regular who even made an appearance in the much lauded series finale. Following the end of "Buffy the Vampire Slayer," Caulfield next landed her first major starring role in a feature film with the horror hit, 2003's "Darkness Falls."

Caulfield followed up the success of her feature film debut with turns on shows such as "Monk," "Robot Chicken," "Private Practice," "Prime Suspect" and "Once Upon a Time," for which she received much praised for her turn as the Blind Witch from Hansel and Gretel. Capitalizing on the wave of streaming internet content, Caulfield made available the satire, "Bandwagon" as well as its 12-part sequel web series on You Tube.

In 2016, Caulfield was cast as Cameron Chase in the CBS television series, "Supergirl," based on the DC Comics character. 2016 also saw Caulfield return to her role as the Blind Witch on the ABC series "Once Upon a Time" as well as providing the voice of Nurse Misty Windham in the web animated series "Fantasy Hospital."

Ed Brisson, Writer

Ed Brisson is a comic book writer who first started to garner attention with his self-published crime series MURDER BOOK. He broke into the public spotlight in 2012 with the crime/time-travel thriller series COMEBACK (Shadowline/Image Comics). In the short time since then, he's written and co-created four other series published by Image: SHELTERED, THE FIELD, THE MANTLE and THE VIOLENT.

His self-published series MURDER BOOK was collected and released by Dark Horse in early 2015.

Ed has also written for BOOM (SONS OF ANARCHY, CLUSTER, THE LAST CONTRACT), Marvel (SECRET AVENGERS, SECRET WARS BATTLEWORLD), DC (BATMAN & ROBIN ETERNAL), IDW (TMNT/X-FILES CONSPIRACY) and many others.

He's currently writing X-FORCE, DEAD MAN LOGAN and UNCANNY X-MEN for Marvel. He's been nominated for the Joe Shuster Award for Best Canadian Writer several times. He lives in Halifax, Nova Scotia, Canada with his wife and daughter.

Jordan Bonaparte, Podcast

Jordan Bonaparte is the host and creator of the award winning audio documentary series Nighttime.

Born and raised in Sydney, Jordan has gone on to apply his open minded boy next door approach to telling Canada's most fascinating stories to listeners all over the world.

Combining his lifelong interest in storytelling and the audio production experience he gained during his time in the popular Cape Breton based band Airport, Jordan's work on Nighttime is now featured on a nationally syndicated radio show (Global AM radio) and via the Nighttime podcast with nearly 10 million downloads.

Guests

Sherry Ramsey, Author

Sherry D. Ramsey is a bestselling Canadian science fiction and fantasy author, editor, publisher, and creativity addict. Her books include the Nearspace series, two novels for middle grade readers, the urban fantasy Olympia Investigations series, and other standalone works. Her latest short fiction can be found in the new Young Explorer's Adventure Guide and the forthcoming anthology, Flights from the Rock. She's an editor and publisher with the regional small press Third Person Press, and regularly conducts writing workshops in person and online. Sherry is a member of the Writer's Federation of Nova Scotia Writer's Council, a moderator of her local writer's group, and a past

Vice-President and Secretary-Treasurer of SF Canada, Canada's national association for Speculative Fiction Professionals.

Jason Anarchy, Board Game Design

Jason Anarchy is the designer of the irreverent Drinking Quest series which is both an RPG and a Drinking Game but also a spoof of the world of gaming.

He also wrangled up 32 webcomic artists for Pretending to Grownup, a casual card game that celebrates that state of being a grownup but not feeling like one.

Jason put out a quirky adventure card game called "Haiku Warrior" which was told entirely through haiku. Later he teamed up with designer Jonathan Rawlings to bring the world "Le Neckbeard" a game that examines the cringily relatable phenomenon of "neckbeards". His newest release is Newfoundland Jam, a colourful jam making game with east coast cuss words! In the Summer, keep an eye out for HECK: A Tiny Card Game, a teamup with Tiny Snek Comics which sees the players bidding snake eggs behind tiny GM screens to win critter friends. Jason travels the world, visiting different conventions and also talks about how great his biceps are on Twitter."

Matt Aucoin, Cosplay

Matt had his first introduction to cosplaying at Hal-con in 2011 where he found himself both amazed and inspired by the creativity and freedom of expression he saw in the community. The very next year he began plans for his very own full costume. Cosplaying has not only become a real true passion for Matt, but a way to connect and feel a sense of belonging among like-minded creative minds. Matt thoroughly enjoys the creative process of bringing to life characters that have resonated with him making the next costume, suit of armor, prop or weapon always just around the corner.

Guests

Nikki Brown, Cosplay

Growing up immersed in an environment of all things Geek, Nikki began dabbling in costuming as a wee youngling. She began attending conventions 8 years ago which sparked her passion for Cosplay and she has been making all of her own costumes from scratch ever since. For her, Cosplay is not only about getting to express herself creatively, but it's also about the joy of bringing those characters to life. Although her fandoms are plentiful, she is best known for her various Wonder Woman Cosplays. Nikki is a unicorn obsessed self proclaimed Magical Girl who loves meeting new people and will most likely talk your ear off if you let her. To stay up to date on all her Cosplay adventures

Weird Nova Scotia – 5 stories by the Nighttime Podcast (Jordan Bonaparte)

Nova Scotia isn't just lighthouses and scenic look offs. It gets quite weird here. Join Jordan Bonaparte (the host and creator of the Nighttime podcast) for a journey through five of his favorite stories set in Nova Scotia. From Jesus Christs appearance at a local coffee shop to one of the world's most compelling UFO sightings. Jordan will share some of what he has learned during his research into these fascinating stories.

Topics include:

Jesus Christ's visit to Tim Horton's (North Sydney)
The disappearance of TROY COOK (Truro)
ESTHER COX, the great Amherst mystery (Amherst)

The Shag Harbour UFO Incident (Shelburn County)

The Bayers Lake Mystery Walls (Halifax Regional Municipality)

Do You Call Yourself a Writer?

(Sherry Ramsay)

Do you hesitate to call yourself a writer? It's not always easy to develop confidence as a writer, but every successful writer faces this challenge. Learn why we struggle with these insecurities, and strategies to overcome them. We'll talk about sharing work, dealing with feedback and criticism, preparing for submissions and rejections, and how we learn to call ourselves writers.

Rules & Rebels: Find the Writing Advice that Works for You (Sherry Ramsay)

Does it seem like there are more "rules of writing" than there are writers? How can you possibly follow them all? (Hint: you can't!) Come and learn what "rules" will work for you and when it's better to be a rebel. We'll discuss the most-quoted "rules of writing," how valid they really are in today's publishing world, and what to do when it seems like you can't possibly follow all these "rules."

Writing Villains Your Readers Love to Hate (Sherry Ramsay)

Great villains are the heroes of their own stories; weak villains can make a great story collapse. Come learn how to challenge your heroes with bad guys your readers will love to hate.

Panels & Events

All Hail the King! Jack Kirby's Influence on Art & Culture

Jeff Wilson discusses the artwork and genius of the undisputed King of Comics, Jack Kirby!

Bad Fan Fiction: PG and 18+ (Jeff Bushnik)

Breaking Down Life Drawing! (For beginners and intermediate artists) (Miriam Williams)

Everyone will agree that life drawing is essential for every artist, but where do you even start? What even is life drawing?? How do you draw something that's always moving??? What do you mean "you need to warm up first"???? Well, let's find out together! Join us, newbies and old hats, as we break it all down. From the bare-bones to poses, to weight distribution and beyond! Be sure to bring lots of paper and pencils, too!

CaperCon's Ultimate Nerd Trivia v 2.0 (Avery Varnes)

With the success of the first run of CaperCon's Ultimate Nerd Trivia, we're back for round 2!

Think you've got what it takes to be the Ultimate Nerd? Bring your team of 5 (maximum) or ride solo and take on Trivia Master Avery and his diabolical (and wholly geeky) questions – the winning team/player will be crowned CaperCon's "Ultimate Know-It-All(s)" and have a shot at some glittering prizes!

Con Etiquette! What to expect and what's expected of us! (Miriam Williams)

Convention are fun and exciting opportunities to meet and bond with fellow nerds about all the things we hold near and dear, but it can also be a bit overwhelming. How should you greet vendors or get their attention? What should I pack (aside from my cosplay)? How do I handle hotels? What do I do here??? Join us as we discuss not only etiquette, but offer tips, tricks and advice to help you navigate the floor and enjoy any convention to its fullest!

Danganronpa 2: Ask The Cast (Megan Renee Jeffery)

Have you ever had any questions you wanted to ask the cast of the video game Danganronpa 2: Goodbye Despair? If yes, then this is your chance! A small group of cosplayers have come together to play the parts of certain characters for fun and entertainment.

Disney karaoke

Be our Guest! Be our Guest! Put your singing skills to the test!

Singers will be picked from a raffle system.

Harry Potter and the Sacred Text – CaperCon Edition (Heather Spares)

Based on the practices of the Harry Potter and the Sacred Text podcast, the participants of this panel will take part in examining and discussing a chapter of the Harry Potter books through a particular theme, including using the Christian spiritual reading practice of Lectio Divina. Delve deep into the story with other lovers of Harry Potter, and learn something new about yourself and the world around you. No religious affiliations are required for participation: all are welcome!

Chapter of Focus: Harry Potter and the Half-Blood Prince, Chapter 14: Felix Felicis

Theme: Distraction

Panels & Events

J-Fashion Explosion! Clothes that are five times more fun (Victoria Salt)

Myself and some friends will be talking about different Japanese fashion styles such as lolita, kadona, fairy kei, etc. Some of us will be dressed in these styles. The panel will lean a bit more towards lolita, as that is where we have the best knowledge! I will have a PowerPoint with pictures, and we will be open to questions and discussion!

Make It So! The Impact of Science Fiction on Humanity

Jeff Wilson discusses the origins and influences of science fiction on human culture, from Frankenstein to Star Trek and beyond!

Make Up 101 (Baillie Elizabeth Ferguson)

Want to learn basic makeup skills? Need to learn how perfect that one last detail for your cosplay? Come to Make Up 101!

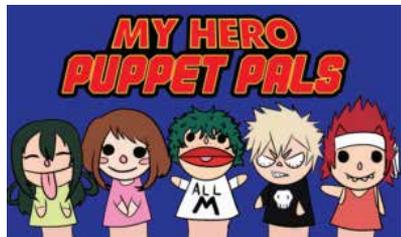

Make up artist Baillie Ferguson will teach you all you need to know.

This panel will teach you where to find the best products and how to use them to your advantage. Make up is an art form and can be the final touch to help complete any cosplay.

There will be time for questions and demos can be done if there are volunteers! Open to all ages!

My Hero Puppet Pals (Chris Southwell)

My Hero Puppet Pals is an interactive experience where puppets and cosplayers combine! Come see class 1A and teachers. See them interact and ask questions, it is a show you don't want to miss!

Sally Face Q&A And Theory (Hayley Croft)

This panel is all about the game Sally Face. Ask us any questions you deem appropriate, and theorize with us about the game's upcoming chapters.

Sketchbook Socials! The Art of Being Creative

Jeff Wilson hosts a drawing workshop that will awaken the creative power within you! Free sketchbook included for all participants!

Stories From The Grove

Come listen to our players tell the stories that will prove beyond a shadow of a doubt that if you haven't LARPed you're missing out. Underworld LARP Cape Breton: Tempest Grove is the Island's only LARP game and we have a dedicated base of players that love to show up and talk about our passion. Stop by and hopefully you'll never want to leave again!

The Truth About Furrries (Angelica Mary Gordon)

The media is full of misconceptions about furrries. This is an informative and fun panel about furrries – run by furrries! It's your chance to ask us anything about our fandom, it's culture and its impact. We absolutely invite people who are not furrries to attend.

Um, Actually: The Game Show of Nerdy Corrections (Kyle MacNeil)

Um, Actually is a show where I tell you false statements about the franchises you love and ravenously defend, and then you correct me in the most obnoxious way possible! It's a place for nerds to vent and brag about how much they know, but don't forget, all corrections must be preceded by the phrase 'Um, Actually...'

It will be a jeopardy style game-show, based off of the hit CollegeHumor series hosted by Mike Trapp. Check out the official series on Dropout.tv!

Underworld LARP Cape Breton: Tempest Grove fighting demo

If you're reading this, chances are you already know how to roleplay. This demo is to show you how much fun you're missing out on if you're just RPing without the Live Action. We'll bring our weapons and show you how to use them... and then give you free reign to cry havoc and let slip your dogs of war. Or, hey, you can just stop by and watch people hitting each other for fun if that's your bag.

Vaughn Yells At Things: Vaughn had a clever name for this panel (Vaughn MacDonald)

All welcome to the the biggest mistake you'll make all weekend! what is this panel? Its usually just me and the crowd debating if the Wolfman goes to heaven if all dogs go, or at least what half. The only exception is I usually have a microphone and I have a desk. The only guaranteed barracuda free panel! Unless someone else uses this joke as well, or someone cosplays a barracuda out of spite! I don't know what a barracuda looks like and at this point I'm too proud to Google it.

Panels & Events

A Writer's Critique Survival Guide (Third Person Press)

Giving and receiving critique comments can be one of the most helpful—and terrifying—experiences for a writer at any level. Come learn how to offer helpful critiques and survive receiving your own!

We'll talk about being on both sides of the critiquing process and how to get the most out of the experience, as well as helpful tips and tools. Attendees can enter a draw to receive a critique on a short piece of writing.

You—Yes, You—Can Cosplay, Too! (Beginner Cosplay Panel) (Meggan Howatson)

Want to start cosplaying, but don't know how? Have an interest in cosplay, but are intimidated by the amazing work others are doing? Never fear! We all start somewhere, and it's so important to push past those initial worries and dive into the fun of cosplay! This panel will offer beginner advice regarding cons and costumes, as well as some tips and tricks of the trade.

FanFiction Theatre: The Three Brothers (Jule Ann Hardy)

FanFiction Theatre is back, and this time for redemption: The Wizarding Academy of Dramatic Arts' Travelling Players return to present their new production of The Three Brothers, adapted from Beedle the Bard's Tale of the Three Brothers. However, the Dark Lord himself has come to crash the party and fulfill his true goal – to become the Master of Death... on stage. The cast and crew must do their best to survive the day by thwarting Voldemort's plan of retrieving the Elder Wand, get through all their costume changes and remember their lines! After all, the show must go on! At least until the Aurors show up.

The Three Brothers is a performance parody set in the Harry Potter universe adapted by Jule Ann Hardy. Basically, it's Fan Fiction Theatre. Harry Potter and Tales of Beedle the Bard belong to JK Rowling.

Mayhem High – Murder Mystery

A Halloween dance goes wrong when a body is discovered in the locker room...

It's Saturday, October 29th, 2016.

As the evening begins to fade and the streets are covered in a blanket of darkness, the crisp fall air breezes through the town of Downfalls.

The street of Mayham Avenue is busy as the townsfolk prepare for the costume party at the local high school. Tonight will be the 15th year for the annual Mayham Community Halloween Party!

By the time 11 o'clock came around, the night was full of music and dancing.

When all of a sudden there was a loud scream that pierced the night, pub owner Change Ling came running out of the locker room; almost knocking over the Mayor's wife Santana Jones. "SHE'S GONE, SHE'S GONE!" he repeated over and over.

The whole gym went silent. Police Chief Hunder Paid rushed over to the scene where Marley Marlow lay cold and lifeless. She was sort of a 'newcomer' to this town. She was quiet, a person that liked to keep to herself, but there was just something that seemed off about her... Who would want to kill someone who has never bothered anyone? Why?

Pokémon League

The CaperCon Pokémon League is your chance to become a Pokémon Master! Face off against the eight Gym Leaders and earn badges on your path to greatness! Battle eight gyms, each focusing on different Pokémon types. After defeating each Gym Leader and claiming their badges, comes a battle with the Champion, and your shot at the title, as well as a winner's prize pack! Trainers of all ages and skill levels are welcome to compete, and encouraged to come share their love of the Pokémon series!

CaperCon is thrilled to partner with Autism Nova Scotia Cape Breton Region at this year's fan convention.

A dedicated, quiet space will be offered for the entirety of opening hours, while a more autism friendly/sensory friendly space will be managed by staff and volunteers of the CB Chapter of Autism NS on Saturday, Sept.21, 12noon-5pm; which is expected to be the more heavier traffic time.

Individuals who are strongly affected by bright lights and loud noises, that may require a break, will have this space readily available to them, and help the festival be more inclusive for everyone.

Representatives from the Autism Chapter will also host a table in the gaming area to help increase awareness and acceptance of autism spectrum disorder and to gauge interest for its own D&D social group within their own chapter's programming.

For more information you may reach out to Samantha Gascoyne, Autism Support Coordinator of Autism NS, CB Chapter at (902) 202-8011 or cbregion@autismns.ca
 For more information about CaperCon, visit their website <http://capercon.ca/> or find them on Facebook.
